Plan Complete For Columbian Honor Society

Faculty Members of Phi
Beta Kappa Will Select
Members

Membership Expected to Be Highest Academic Distinction

Organization of the Columbian Honor Society, sponsored by members of Phi Beta Kappa at the University, under the direction of Prof. George N. Henning, was completed last weekend and the election of charter members will be held immediately.

The aim of this new body is to encourage scholarship in the arts. Candidates for the A.B. or B.S. degrees in Columbian College who lack less than 20 semester hours for graduation and who have completed at least 60 hours of this work at the University with a point index of 3.5 average will be eligible.

Faculty Elects Members
From the list of eligibles the faculty members of Phi Beta Kappa will elect such students as have developed scholarly methods of work, shown originality, and have given evidence of becoming useful citizens.

Membership in this organization is expected to be a mark of great academic distinction, the highest available to those undergraduates specializing in the arts, according to University officers.

Elections will be held twice each year, in anticipation of the February and June convocations. The list of charter members will be posted on the bulletin board in Corcoran Friday.

Student Group To Broadcast 'Soldier Poet'

Swezey and Minor Are Added to Cast of Second Production

"The Soldier Poet", drama of ancient warlike Chile, written by Jane Culbertson, will be broadcast Friday at 10:30 p. m. over WMAL.

This will be the second of the student radio dramas and will appear during the University Radio Forum debates on Latin America.

Completing the cast for December's drama, Robert Swezey was chosen to play the leading part of Ericilla, the soldier-poet, and Harold L. Minor the part of Don Reinosa, aide and officer in the invading Spanish army. Other members of the cast as announced last week are Charles A. Yeager Jr., as Calpurnian; C. Calvert Hines, as Mendoza; Laurence Beckman, as the viceroys of Peru; Frank Burnett, as Friar Gonzalez; Robert C. Campbell, as Don Hernandez; Jean Bateman, as Fresia; Florence Rice, as Gloria; Philip Souder, as an Indian guide; and Eleanor Farr, as an Inca slave girl.

Rehearsals for the next drama, which will be broadcast next month, are to be held tonight at 8 in the studios of WMAL.

"The Breath of Life" was selected as the title of Margaret Long's script, the third written by the creative writing class, Richard P. Creyke's "Father of the Constitution" was re-read and criticized by the class Wednesday night.

Prof. McIntire Writes Article

'Government Corporations'
to Appear in January.
Law Review

"Government Corporations", by Prof. John A. McIntire, will be a feature of the next issue of The George Washington Law Review, according to Prof. Chester G. Ward, acting editor. This issue will appear sometime in January.

Prof. McIntire, last year's editor of the Law Review, is at present studying for his S. J. D. degree at Harvard. Last year, when he inaugurated a course in "Government Corporations", said to be the first one of its kind in any university in the country.

The current issue of the Review carries two articles which have attracted considerable attention among students as well as law students and lawyers. One of these is an article on crime by J. Edgar Hoover, director of the Department of Investigation of the Department of Justice; the other deals with the "Constitutionality of the New Frankfurter Amendment to the Bankruptcy Act", the editorial note of which was written by William F. Lemke, Jr., a student in the Law School, and son of the co-author of the amendment.

Next Hatchet January 7

This issue of The Hatchet is the last one before the Christmas holidays. The next edition will appear on Jan. 7, 1936.

Union Meets Tomorrow; Hears Neutrality Report

Director

Howard Ennes Named Head Of '36 Fiesta

Council Represented By Critchfield, Brewer,
Cunningham

Howard Ennes was appointed director of the 1936 Fiesta Sunday by Bourke Floyd, president of the Student Council, in compliance with the recommendation of a committee named by him Saturday for that purpose.

The committee, consisting of Ruth Critchfield, Ruth Brewer and Austin Cunningham, will represent the Council as an advisory board to the director.

Floyd's action came after the Council at its last meeting had voted, 7 to 6, to table a resolution introduced by Everett Strandell concerning the proposed Fiesta constitution. Strandell's resolution would have recommended that the Student Life Committee ratify the constitution, which was drafted late last spring, and which provided for a self-perpetuating board.

At the Council's meeting Thursday, Charles Armstrong was named to the Social Events Calendar Committee. Mary Kunne was made chairman of a Bulletin Board Committee, the Council's gifts to the student body were discussed and it was announced that April 11 will be a closed date for another Student Council All-University dance.

Rules for Student Club House
1. The Club house will be open from 8 a. m. to 8 p. m.

2. The management has authority to request any person in the club to identify himself as a member of the student body or a student guest.

Students Seeking February Degrees Apply in January

Candidates for all degrees and certificates to be conferred in February must apply on or before Jan. 6, in compliance with University regulations.

Those applying for degrees and Junior Certificates should fill out forms obtainable in the Registrar's office.

Candidates whose degrees require these must present their papers to the Dean or Director of the School or Division concerned, on or before the above date.

Three copies, one typewritten, and two carbon copies, must be turned in on official theses papers and in the form outlined on page 73 of the University Catalogue.

Union Recognized

The George Washington University Union was formally recognized by the Student Life committee Saturday.

Sickler Humiliates Gridiron Club By Crashing Banquet

Jerry Serves Suit Papers
On Doherty at Fete
Saturday

By Robert Howell
Jerry Sickler, who has been identified with the University in various ways for a decade or so, inflicted the worst humiliation in his history on the Washington Gridiron Club, exclusive organization of Washington newspaper correspondents, Saturday night when he "crashed" the club's banquet at the Willard Hotel. It was the first time such an event had happened.

The occasion was the serving of papers on Henry L. Doherty, oil magnate, in connection with a suit against Doherty being handled by a law firm with which Lowell Bradford, who is also well known in University circles, is associated.

As Sickler described the affair, it was quite simple. All he had to do was evade a flock of secret

Centrists to Present Bill
Fulfilling the Party's
Foreign Plank

Doolan Is New Majority
Leader; Lefts Outlaw
Bloc Voting

At the first official meeting of the Union tomorrow night at 8 o'clock in Corcoran 10, the Foreign Relations committee will report on a substitute for the present United States neutrality law. Both a minority and majority report will be given.

Majority members of the committee sponsoring the bill will present a document carrying out in detail the international relations platform of the Center party. According to their platform, Centrists "favor extension of the new conception of neutrality, including renunciation of the 'freedom of the seas' doctrine in the time of international war; taking the profits out of war; an embargo on capital, goods, and credits to belligerent nations; and the issuance of a warning that Americans traveling or trading in war zones do so at their own risk."

To most of these points the Left party agrees. The principal differences evidenced in committee meetings have been in the method of carrying out the provisions, particularly in reference to embargos.

Mandatory Embargo Demanded
Leftists demand that the embargo be made mandatory, while the Centrists contend that the power should be left to the President's discretion.

The Left party, meeting Thursday, drafted and accepted the following: a resolution against voting in a bloc; a by-law subjecting officers to recall by a two-thirds vote; another that a member may be dropped by missing one committee or Union meeting; a by-law limiting the power of the executive committee to suggestions and recommendations, leaving executive authority in the hands of the members; and a decision to issue a monthly mimeographed paper on current topics.

The Center party, in its first meeting after the resignation of John Bracken as chairman, elected its officers who are: Bolling Lambeth, chairman; Robert Doolan, vice-chairman; Edward Keating, secretary; and Thomas Robinson, treasurer. It was decided that a meeting would be held in Stockton 10 immediately preceding the Union meeting in order to decide upon its candidate for speaker pro-tem of the Union.

Inaugural Meeting Held
The inaugural session of the Union was held Wednesday night in the United States Chamber of Commerce. John Bracken, chairman of the occasion, introduced the Rev. Edmund A. Walsh, of Georgetown University, as principal speaker.

Father Walsh, in his speech, "Liberty—Under Democracy", described the rapid development of the industrial age. He described mankind today as "rushing jaxily to nervous prostration". The country is in the third crisis of its history, he said. The first was in 1787, the second in 1865, and the third began to show itself in 1929. The problem of providing security and sufficiency for the masses is the problem at present, Father Walsh stated.

The speaker submitted to the Union two concrete measures which, he said, would alleviate present troubles. First, he proposed a house of national welfare, an economic council composed of occupational representatives from every cross-section of American life. Second,

Colonials Defeat Richmond, 46-33, In Close Contest

Richmond, Dec. 16—Led by Ben Goldfaden, forward, and Hal Kiesel, center, George Washington University's basketball team got back in the win column here tonight by defeating the Richmond University Spiders, 46-33, in a hard fought game. Goldfaden scored 14 points, while Kiesel made 12.
G. W. took the lead early in the game and held a 22-12 advantage at halftime. However, the Spiders put on the pressure and pulled up to within two points of the visitors midway of the second half. Then the Colonials' offense began to click, and G. W. put the game on ice with some sharp shooting.
Brown, forward, was high scorer for Richmond with 12 points.

Cherry Tree Photography Progresses

Helen Buntun, Editor,
Urges That All Pictures
Be Taken Soon

With only four more days of school before the holidays, photography for the 1936 Cherry Tree at Edmonston's Studio is progressing, but Helen Buntun, editor, suggests that all persons endeavor to have pictures taken before and during holidays in order to alleviate last-minute congestion.

Fraternity members may be photographed on week nights or on Sunday afternoons instead of the regular time, providing Mr. David B. Edmonston is notified and insured that enough students will be there to warrant his opening the studio.

Deadline Set
The deadline, when 80 percent of the pledge and active membership of each sorority must be photographed to be eligible to enter a candidate in the 1936 Beauty Contest is Saturday, January 11. Judges of the contest are Neyna McMein of McCalla, and John LaGatta of The Saturday Evening Post.

Distribution of receipt books to be used in the contest for sale of copies of the annual will begin the first week in January. Any organization is eligible to compete in this contest, for which prizes of $25, $15, and $10 are offered to the three organizations selling most copies of the yearbook.

Return Books

Weekly returns and reports are to be made by each organization to Henry W. Heneg, graduate manager of publications. March 1 will be the closing date of the sales contest.

Contracts for page space in the Cherry Tree at $15 for one page or $25 for two, are being turned in by sororities, fraternities, and organizations. All organizations will have group pictures, and may arrange to have their group photos taken as soon as their contracts are turned in to the graduate manager.

Women's Choral Group Sings Carols at Chapel

The Women's Glee Club will give its annual Christmas Carol service as an appropriate Christmas theme at chapel Friday at 12:10 p. m. in Corcoran 10.

In the absence of Dr. Oscar F. Blackwelder, at last week's chapel services, Dr. Raymond J. Seeger spoke on the "Meaning of Christmas".

Goal of Drive Is Set at 200 Baskets By
Co-directors

Barrels Are Placed in Three University
Buildings

The Engineering School, headed by Carl Mainfort, coordinator, has made the most contributions to date to the Food Drive, which enters its final week of the campaign today. The deadline for donations is Monday, and all contributors are requested to send in their food or money before that time.

According to Everett Strandell and Charles Stofberg, co-directors, the goal of the drive is 200 baskets of food which will be given to needy Washington families. The estimated cost of each basket will be $3. Stating that most organizations have responded, particularly those that cooperated last year, Strandell stressed the fact that there is still time for all organizations to get mention on the Food Drive Honor Roster.

Barrels have been placed in Stockton Hall, Corcoran Hall, and Biological Science Building; food collections from these are made daily.

In order to advertise the drive to both day and evening students who are not connected with any organization, speakers addressed many classes yesterday. The talks will be continued today and tomorrow. Marian Anderson and Verna Volz are in charge of this unit of the drive. They have selected Sylvia Bahar, Austin Cunningham, Reba Edelman, Toby Gerber, William Goodykoonz, Charles Kelfer, and Tom Larkin to head smaller units of the student speakers.

Strandell and Stofberg announce the following additions to the office staff of the drive: Harry Anderson, Frank Biba, Louise Erk, Patricia Evans, Betty Ann Fast, Salem Forsythe, Carol Fries, Helen Hackworth, Don Jones, Jerry May, James Moses, Mary Virginia Trammel, Frances Kunne, Fred Smith, Barbara Fufin, Maria Drane, and Toby Gerber.

Thirteen Act For Society

Thirteen flags of various nations were used for decorations, thirteen numbers were on the program, and thirteen members were on the entertainment committee of the International Night program of the International Students Society, in Corcoran Hall Wednesday night.

In an atmosphere of German, Soviet, Italian, United States, and many other flags of nations representing a diversity of political concepts, the society proved again the possibilities of cultural understanding among the foreign students who come here.

The Parade of Nations, which was a feature of the program, was a fashion show of colorful costumes. The students and the country they represented in costume were as follows: Naomi Pekmezian, Armenian; Gertrude Oehlmann, German; Kitty Baart, Dutch; Mary Zamen, Lithuanian; a costume donated by the Lithuanian Legation; Rodolfo Valle, Mexican; Celia Costa, Philippines; Bukal Bayosy, Turkish student uniform of today; and Miguel Romeo, Cuban rumba costume.

Mary Kunne Is Promoted

Mary Kunne has been elected to the Senior Staff of The Hatchet. She is serving her second year on the society staff.

Miss Kunne must serve one month's probationary period in accordance with a ruling of the Publications Committee.

Train, Bus, Plane Schedules Reviewed As Students Depart For 13 Day Vacation

Blake Writes Biography

Dr. Nelson M. Blake, former University student and now associate archivist of the National Archives, has just written "William Mahone of Virginia, Soldier and Political Insurgent".

Bar Group Acts As Law Council

At a joint meeting of the officers of the Student Bar Association and a committee appointed by the Dean of the Law School to consider the formation of a Law School Council, provisions for which were made in the new Student Council constitution, it was tentatively decided that the Student Bar Association will function as the Law School Council.

It was held that the Association could perform all the activities of the projected Law School Council, and plans were made for the inauguration of an elaborate program of activity.

It was unanimously agreed that the Law School be represented on the Student Council by the president of the Bar Association.

By John Daugherty

Leaving Washington as quickly as possible after classes are dismissed Friday, a large number of University students will depart by train, bus, automobile, and airplane for their 13-day Christmas holidays, which terminates Jan. 3 when classes are resumed.

Fraternities and sororities report that a number of their activities and pledges will depart for home, leaving, however, enough to carry on with dances and other holiday activities.

A day student may leave Washington by bus at 12:30 Friday afternoon and arrive at New York at 10 p. m. that night, or he may take a train at 1 p. m. and arrive in New York at 5 p. m. If he is a speed demon he might fly up to New York. A plane leaves Washington at 1 p. m. and arrives in New York at 3 p. m.

If a student plans to go south to New Orleans by way of Knoxville, a bus leaves at 3:15 p. m. and arrives at Knoxville the next evening at 8:45 and a day later arrives at New Orleans. If he goes by train, he may leave at 12:50 a. m. and arrive at New Orleans the next day at 7:20 a. m.

A train leaves for St. Louis at 10:35 Friday night and arrives at 11:10 the following night. A bus leaves here at 12:30 p. m. and arrives at St. Louis three days later at 6:45 p. m.

To go to Chicago by bus, he must first go to Philadelphia and from there to Chicago. A train leaves Washington at 11:45 and arrives at Chicago two days later at 9:05 p. m.

If he wishes to go to Honolulu he must take a plane to California, then take the Clipper ship. It is a 58 hour trip each way.

Seminars Meet Today

Character Education Seminars will meet in group-session today at 4 p. m. at Central High School.

Dr. Walter C. Ellis, who is on leave of absence from Stanford University, will speak on "Place of Subject Matter in the New Curriculum".

The contest was open to professionals and amateurs, and 89 posters were submitted. The entries are on display at the Arts Club where they will remain until Dec. 27. After that they will be placed throughout the city to publicize the ball, which will be held Jan. 20 at the Willard Hotel.

Edwin D. Williams, a student at Columbia Tech., won the second prize of $15, and third prize of two tickets to the Bal Boheme, valued at $10, went to Jane Vigor, of the National School of Fine and Applied Arts.

Churchill Writes Book Introduction

Dr. George M. Churchill, professor of history, has been asked to write the introduction for Volume three of the new series of Ridpath's "History of the World". The book is to be published within two months.

Exitus Acta Probat

Columbian Honor Society Fills Long Felt Need

ORGANIZATION of the Columbian Honor Society is an important step and should, no doubt will, be most favorably received on the campus.

This Society is designed to publicly recognize a group which, The Hatchet believes, has long been grossly neglected in the past—the upper class honor students.

For some years students, men and women, who have attained a 3.5 index during their first semester's or first year's work at the University have been honored by membership in Phi Eta Sigma and Alpha Lambda Delta, respectively. Both these organizations are national.

Up to the present time, however, scholarship, the proper goal of every conscientious student, has meant little or nothing in the way of recognition. Now all this is changed and the students who make the most of their opportunities here by studying are to come into their own.

Aptly enough the Columbian Honor Society has been organized and will be sponsored by the Phi Beta Kappa members of the faculty under the direction of Professor Henning. It is possible that "Columbian" may eventually become the George Washington unit of Phi Beta Kappa; but whether or not it takes on the conventional Greek title it at once becomes the "highest ranking organization in the field on the campus."

Eligibility for membership in the Society will be restricted to candidates for the A. B. or B. S. degree in Columbian College who lack less than twenty hours for graduation and who have completed at least sixty hours of work with an index of 3.5 or better.

But a mere index of 3.5 or better will not insure election to the organization. The committee further states "only those students who have developed serious general interests and a scholarly method of work, who have shown originality in the practical application of their knowledge, and who have given evidence of becoming useful citizens" will be elected.

These are indeed rigid requirements for membership. And rightly so. Here is one organization in which membership is hard earned, well earned, and well deserved. We'll venture to say few tenders of membership will ever be declined in this Society's history.

The Hatchet commends the Faculty Committee on its initiative in this direction and heartily endorses the Columbian Honor Society as projected.

N. R. A.: "No Reading Allowed" In Libraries Dec. 26-29

ELSEWHERE on this page The Hatchet prints the hours during which the several libraries of the University will be open during the holidays. This information is printed for your convenience—so you will not go down to study at a time the Library isn't open.

It should not be necessary to print such a schedule. Not that The Hatchet objects to giving such a notice the space required, but because the libraries of the University should be open at all reasonable times. In other words, it should not be necessary for you to check with the time-table and find that the Library is closed, for instance, Sunday, December 29, for the simple reason that all the libraries should be open on that day.

There are many students who will remain in the city over the holidays and who would very much like to study some in the libraries during the period December 26 through December 29. This is particularly true in the case of law students.

In this University it seems that every effort should be made to encourage, at least permit, students to study. If there is any appreciable number of students who wish to study in the libraries during this period it seems that the least the University could do would be to open the libraries for such students.

Furthermore, if the wishes of the students mean anything, the Law School Library should remain open until 12 o'clock each night during the entire year.

First "Charity Ball" Being Held To Increase Xmas Donation

INAUGURATING a new feature to the Christmas Food Drive this year, a "Charity Ball" will be given Thursday night in Stockton Hall.

Such a social affair is very appropriate at this time of the year; in fact, at many institutions of learning a "Charity Ball" takes care of the entire Christmas donation.

The Food Drive ball, the first "charity ball" to be given here, might be the birth of a real Charity Ball as the crowning feature of our Food Drives in the future.

There is no reason why every student should not attend this dance. The admission charge is nominal—in fact, less than the price of tickets to the movies and the music, which is being donated, will be the same that has been heard at the majority of the social affairs this year.

By attending the dance you will help enlarge the George Washington Christmas donation and at the same time will afford yourself a pleasant, enjoyable evening.

The Hatchet Wishes All A Merry Christmas!

Probably when you read this issue of The Hatchet—the last one this year—some of you will have your bags already packed waiting for the ring of the bell dismissing your last class before the recess. Then, you will be on your way home to spend the holidays.

Others who will remain in Washington during the recess are also anxious for the last class to be over in order to complete Christmas shopping and plans for the holidays.

Studies will be completely forgotten before Christmas and rightly so. The few remaining days of the recess after Christmas could well be used to get that overdue book report written, or bring reading up to date, or, perhaps, a general review of the work covered so far this year, would be advantageous to most of us.

Many resolutions will be made during these few days and many will be broken the first week we return to the campus. Nevertheless a New Year should not be started without making a few resolutions.

There is one resolution we hope and trust every student will make and that is to attain a higher scholarship. From the University standpoint scholarship is important but not as important as it is to the student himself; while in college high scholarship gives satisfaction to the student but in later life it proves of inestimable value in securing a desired position in his chosen field.

We very much wanted to extend good wishes to students and faculty members alike in some different way than has heretofore been done, but try as we have, there seems no better, more effective way than just to say—The Hatchet sincerely wishes you A MERRY CHRISTMAS AND A HAPPY NEW YEAR!

FLYING CHIPS

Bourke Floyd's One Man Show—Should the Council as a Whole pass on Ennes' Appointment as Director of the 1936 Fiesta?

—By Jimmie Haley—

THAT Bourke Floyd, president of the Student Council, is Number One man on the campus, at least according to Bourke Floyd, was further evidenced by his action Sunday in appointing the Director of the 1936 Fiesta.

This appointment was made and announced without so much as bringing the matter up on the floor of the Council. It is true that Floyd was advised by a committee of three and he hopes to shield his action behind the alleged "advice" of his committee.

Evidently Floyd considers the other members of the Council as of no importance whatever—he looks upon them as mere tools, to do what they are told to do and nothing more. And he has reason for so thinking; to date a fair number of the Council members, some Service and at least one Progressive, have indicated that they have no minds of their own or if they have any they are too lazy or too indifferent to use them.

It is time, I think, that other members of the Council begin to exercise some independent judgment in University matters. This is not the first time such power has been usurped by the Council president. He alone decided not to have the Co-op continued, and when his committees have returned reports not to his liking he has dismissed the committees and handled matters personally.

However, it must be said that this decision on the part of Mr. Floyd is different from most of the others. In this case his selection is indeed a good one while most of his other decisions have, in my opinion, been unfortunate. Howard Ennes, the person named by Floyd as Director of the 1936 Fiesta, is a very able individual, well qualified for the post to which he has been appointed since he was an Associate Director of last year's festival.

But the unfortunate part of the present situation is that Ennes' appointment might not be approved by the Council—unless Floyd sees fit to keep it from coming up on the floor. And certainly he cannot hope that the other members of the Council will be such dupes as to let the appointment go unnoticed.

In former years the Director has been appointed by the president of the Council without public announcement until approved by the Council as a body. That was what happened last year when Ted Pierson appointed Sam Futrovsky. That was what happened year before last when Bill Helvestine appointed Ludwig Caminita Jr. And that was the procedure in 1932-33 when Elton Billings was president of the Council and when none other than Bourke Floyd was appointed Director of the Fiesta.

The appointment of Ennes followed quickly after last Thursday's meeting of the Council at which Everett Strandell submitted a resolution which would have put the Council on record as favoring the Fiesta Constitution (which is now, and has been for almost a year, in the hands of the Student Life Committee), and would have held up proceedings on the Fiesta until some action had been taken on the Fiesta Constitution.

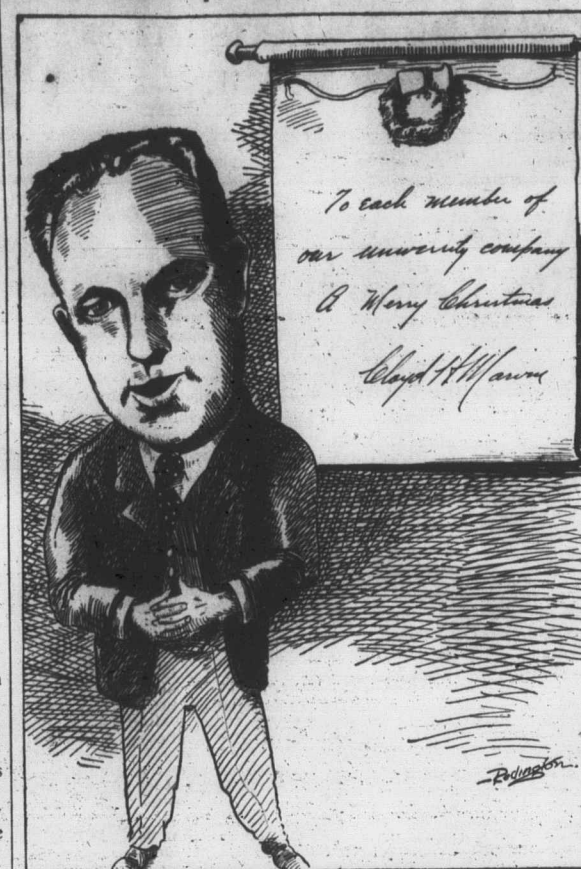

Ennes is a good man for the job. It would be too bad to see his appointment nullified by the Council. But perhaps such action on the part of the Council would do something to put an end to the most undesirable political maneuvering this campus has known in recent years and of which Bourke Floyd is the chief exponent.

At all events the next Council meeting will be an interesting one.

he proposed the issuance of labor shares. This means, he said, that the worker will actually share in the profit which he helps to create. In conclusion the speaker stated that "with these two things put into practical operation, the unfinished work of our forefathers would be completed."

Following Father Walsh's address, Ted Pierson was sworn into office as president of the Union. The new president asked those desiring membership in the Union to rise as he pronounced them members. The president then read the committee membership of the Union. President Pierson briefly addressed members on the purpose and intent of the Union, stressing the point that members must avoid bigotry and intolerance if the Union is to realize its ultimate goal.

After succeeding in this, he "walked up to Doherty's seat, as nonchalantly as possible and said, 'Mr. Doherty, please,' and that was the whole thing."

Due to the fact that he was occupying an assigned seat, Jerry considered the wisest move one toward an exit, and left after the first course had been served. He credited his success on this occasion to experience gained over a long period at various University functions.

Bandsmen Plan Alumni Chapter

Norman A. Warnock, and Clarence West Jr., became active members of Kappa Kappa Psi.

Austen Roe, president of the local chapter announced Sunday that due chiefly to the efforts of George Johanneson and John Kangas, alumni members of the band and of Kappa Kappa Psi, steps would be taken at the meeting tomorrow to start an alumni chapter of Kappa Kappa Psi at George Washington. Roe also announced that Leopold Stokowski, director of the Philadelphia Symphony Orchestra, who was invited to the ceremony tomorrow night was unable to come, but that he had expressed interest in Kappa Kappa Psi and would probably add to the prestige of the local chapter by becoming an honorary member at the spring initiation.

Varsity Swimmers Open Season Against Amherst

Rote Needs Divers in Meet

First Intersectional Contest on Tap Saturday Night at Shoreham

Colonials' Outlook Is Dark After Glance at Visitor's Record

COACH MAX ROTE'S varsity swimming squad holds its first meet of the year Saturday at 8 p.m. at the Shoreham pool when it meets Amherst College, of Massachusetts. This meet is of interest to the student body, as it is the first intersectional swimming contest in Colonial history.

Amherst College is a member of the New England Swimming Association, while George Washington University belongs to the Eastern Collegiate Swimming Association.

Amherst is making a Christmas holiday tour southward to the University of Florida at Gainesville with a squad of eighteen men. This squad is composed of the '34 swimming team (which won nine meets last year, being defeated only by West Point) plus new material from the freshmen squad. While on this tour, Amherst will also meet schools of Connecticut, New York, and Riders College of Trenton, N. J.

Seriously Handicapped
The varsity squad is seriously handicapped for this meet with the lack of fancy divers, more breast stroke and back stroke swimmers, due to the loss of several swimmers by graduation. And, as though fate has not designed enough worries for Coach Max Rote, more irony is heaped on with the possibility that Captain Henry Vonder Bruegge and Beverly Carter may not be able to participate in Saturday's meet. Carter finding it necessary to work at this time, while Vonder Bruegge may go home Friday night.

The probable lineup for the varsity squad is: Karl Schmitt and John Loffert in the 50-yard and 100-yard dashes; Ben Catchings in the 220-yard and 440-yard events; Bill Swanson and Jack Parsons for the backstroke; Ted Cottingham and Robert Ashworth participating in the fancy diving event, and Steve Porter and Edward Browning in the breast stroke. The following will participate in the medley relay: Karl Schmitt, John Loffert, Baker, and Steve Porter. It is not definitely known whether John Molyneux or Henry Vedder will be able to take part in the meet.

Strong Test
This meet with Amherst will be one of the strongest tests the varsity squad will have to compete with this year, and the outcome looks none too bright for the Colonials.

The call for sprinters last week was answered by several new men, and their work is gratifying. Coach Max Rote wants all interested in diving for the varsity squad report to him at the Y.M.C.A. pool today, tomorrow, or Thursday from 9 to 11 a.m.

Frosh Mermen Meet Central 'Y' Friday

Seek Second Straight Win After Triumph Over Western, 34-30

THE Freshmen swimming team meets the Central Y.M.C.A. in the "Y" pool Friday night at 8 o'clock. This is the third contest for the frosh, having tied its first meet with Central, 36-36, and won the meet with Western High last Friday night, 34-40.

Western managed to keep the score point for point for the first six events, while the last two proved too much. Joe LaSalle was the star of the meet, and also the Colonial's largest point-getter.

The other star of the meet for the Colonial freshmen was Bill Tarbett, who also was a great point-getter for the team. His diving ability in the next to the last event aided G.W. no little to break the tie score that was prevalent up to this event.

The results:
200-yard relay—Won by Western (Hamm, Bishop, Smith, and Shirline). Time, 1:36 2/5 seconds.
100-yard breast stroke—Won by Tarbett (G.W.); second, Riesburg (Western); third, Wright (Western). Time, 81 seconds.
50-yard free style—Won by LaSalle (G.W.); second, Murphy (Western); third, Tobin (G.W.). Time, 27 seconds.
220-yard free style—Won by Smith (Western); second, Wimsatt (G.W.); third, Meushaw (G.W.).
100-yard back stroke—Won by Maynalo (Western); second, Thacker (G.W.); third, Brown (Western). Time, 70 2/5 seconds.
100-yard free style—Won by LaSalle (G.W.); second, Shirline (Western); third, Tarbett (G.W.). Time, 63 seconds.

SPORT AXE....

By Sid Carroll

"WE'LL have a much improved ball club after the Christmas holidays," said Basketball Coach Bill Reinhart when he hit town Saturday, following the game with Ohio State in Columbus last Thursday. And, who should know better than he?

"It's true the Colonials have a number of good potentialities. Headed by Hal Kiesel, lanky center, and Tommy O'Brien, a soph forward, the squad seems destined for the heights this season. Kiesel is as good a center as you'll see here this year, and O'Brien, with a little added experience, will no doubt be a great asset to the team.

Capt. Tuffy Leemans, of football fame, is likewise a potential star. Leemans is an aggressive, offensive type of ball player. He passes with uncanny accuracy and his shooting skill is near par. His main trouble at present is on the defense. However, this will be polished and brushed up in time.

Ben Goldfaden, high scoring forward of last year, had a little trouble with the Buckeyes' powerful aggressive style of play, but he, too, is expected to progress and reach the form he displayed last season.

Besides these, Reinhart has Walter Bakus, "Mouse" Schonfeld, and Clarence Berg, all vets, to put into the game at any time without weakening the team. All are good shots, and Schonfeld is a particularly good defensive man.

The team's main trouble at present seems to be the lack of practicing and conditioning. This, however, will be remedied during the holidays.

Some evidence of the ragged type of ball played so far may be brought out by the fact that the Colonials missed 24 backboard shots in the Ohio State game. Also, they lost the ball exactly 16 times in the first half when they neared the Buckeye defense because of sloppy handling.

Lack of speed is also handicapping the Gwans no little right now. But Reinhart promises that all of these faults will be taken care of before the next game with Oglethorpe University on January 6.

Just in passing let me ask you to keep a watchful eye on Tommy O'Brien, the sophomore flash. That boy is going places.

TULSA University will not be on the Colonials' football schedule next season, because of conflicting dates.

The Oklahomaans have decided to play more conference games, and, as a result, had only two open dates on the '36 schedule, one in October and the other in November. The October date fell on the same day G.W. had signed to play Arkansas, so that was off. The November 14 date happened to be sandwiched in between Tulsa's Texas Christian game and the Arkansas tilt. So, after losing to the Colonials twice in a row, it would hardly seem profitable for them to tackle G.W. in the midst of these two tough games.

It was only after several telegrams, letters, and a phone call that the two decided to call it off. The two schools remain on the friendliest of terms, having done the only logical thing when they couldn't arrange their dates to suit one another.

The two teams will try to get together in 1937, however.

Tulsa was G.W.'s biggest gridiron rival, having met the Colonials six times. The Colonials have met no other team as often, nor have they had as much respect for any team, as they had for Tulsa. The boys looked forward to this game every year with much excitement and anxiety. The Hurricane had been on the G.W. schedule every year since 1930. During this time G.W. lost four games and won two from "Gloomy Gus" Henderson's proteges, this year's 3-0 defeat and last year's 10-0 setback, the first at the hands of G.W., being the only victories of the Colonials.

I got a big kick out of a letter which appeared in the Minnesota Daily, Minnesota's student paper, a couple weeks ago. I thought maybe you'd like it too, so here it is.

Princeton, New Jersey, October, '35.

Dear Coach Bierman:
As you probably have read, we have pretty good football teams out in this part of the country. I guess the people and sports writers like the teams,

Cubs Meet Central Today

Frosh Play Roosevelt High Quint There Tomorrow

Friends and Tech High Were Beaten By Yearlings Last Week

THE Freshmen five will be out for its fifth and sixth consecutive victories in the next two days with Central and Roosevelt as its prospective victims. Central will be met in the "tin tabernacle," and Roosevelt will be played there.

The cubs are undefeated, and are showing great potentialities. Central, to be met today, has been designated as a serious inter-high threat and may end the winning streak of the Freshmen. If they don't, Roosevelt, winner of four straight games, will be out to do it. The cubs are the best of the defense, and the first high school team to score a win over the Little Colonials.

Saturday they put on a great show while defeating one of strong inter-high teams, Tech, in the G.W. gym, 33-15. Led by Sid Silkowitz and Bob Faris, the cubs piled up an overwhelming 20-3 lead at halftime. In the second period, though many second stringers performed, the cubs easily held their advantage.

Bill Rea was the only Manual Trainer to score more than one basket, and he hooped only four points. Sid Silkowitz made 12 for the Frosh with Faris close behind with 10.

Wednesday, the Frosh showed a bland disregard for the hospitality shown them by running roughshod over Friends at Friends' gym, 52-17. Vic Sampson was the high scorer for the Freshmen, ringing up 14 points. Joe Brennen, former Western High school player, made eight. Gwynne led Friends with seven points.

Sports Writers Nominate '35 All-American

Like the candle which flames brightly one last moment before it expires, the Campus Sports Writers' All-American football team provides the last flit of light at the end of the 1935 grid season.

The nation-wide poll of 150 college paper sports writers, conducted by Bob Kunkel, sports editor of the Dakota Student, University of North Dakota student sheet, selected this first team:

Moscrip, Stanford.
Widseth, Minnesota.
Wetzel, Southern Methodist.
Lester, Texas Christian.
Tangora, Northwestern.
Lutz, California.
Miller, Notre Dame.
Berwanger, Chicago.
Grayson, Stanford.
Wilson, Southern Methodist.
Simmons, Iowa.

The selections of Sid Carroll, Sports Editor of The Hatchet, arrived and so were not entered in the official balloting, but six of his nominees, namely: Widseth, Wetzel, Lester, Lutz, Miller and Berwanger, were named on the first eleven.

On Another All-American
Riley Smith, Alabama's great quarterback, kept the ball rolling again last week by being named on Collier's All-American team, picked by Grantland Rice. This makes the umpteenth All-American he has made this season.

but it isn't much fun being on one of them.

I have sat on the bench for 5 years now but all I get to do is watch our outfit pound its opponents to a pulp. I hear that one of your tackles, or somebody, is going to be graduated or something and I thought you might be needing someone to fill his position.

I will be glad to consider an offer for the coming season since my plans are still open. Please write terms by return mail.

Yours truly,
Elmer Kadlonalaky,
(end, guard, tackle, center, quarter, half-back, fullback).

P.S.: I guess you don't play the same kind of power football that we play out here but I think I can learn your system, whatever it is, without much trouble.

P.S.K. and S.N. Stay on Top Of Leagues

Teams Will Meet in Finals, If They Win Games This Week

IF Phi Sigma Kappa and Sigma Nu come through with victories in the Interfraternity Basketball league, they will meet in the final play-off, to be held the second week of January.

Sigma Chi, whom the Phi Sigs play tomorrow night, will be a real test and a hard team to beat. Theta Delta Chi, considered a strong team, lost to the Sigma Chi quint last week by a score of 26-13. Sigma Nu should not have much trouble in winning over T.K.E., the latter five having lost three straight.

The games for league A will be held tomorrow night. Phi Sigma Kappa meets Sigma Chi at 7:30, Kappa Sigma battles Theta Delta Chi at 8:30, and Kappa Alpha faces the Delta Tau Delta five an hour later.

This week's games in league B, to be played on Friday night and S.A.E. and T.U.O. paired at 7:30, while at 8:30 Sigma Phi Epsilon and Acacia mix in what should be an interesting game. In the final game, at 9:30, Sigma Nu and T.K.E. are scheduled to meet to decide whether or not the Snakes are to be champion of their league for the second straight year.

In last week's games, the league leaders, Phi Sigma Kappa and Sigma Nu managed to maintain their positions at the top. The Phi Sigs were given a run for their money, overcoming the Kappa Alpha team by one point in a hard-fought game, 12-11. Sigma Nu took T.U.O. in stride, winning by a score of 33-10.

The outstanding game of the week was the battle between Acacia and Sigma Alpha Epsilon. This proved to be a thriller all the way, with Sigma Alpha Epsilon winning in the last minute of play, 22-20.

In the other game in league B, Sigma Phi Epsilon beat T.K.E., 12 to 6.

Kappa Sigma beat Delta Tau Delta, 42-23, in the third league A game.

Frosh Top Eastern 38-20

Bob Faris Scores 18 Points as Yearlings Hang Up Four Straight

Cubs Trail at Half, 13-11, But Stage Comeback to Win Handily

THE Colonial Cubs rang up their fourth victory in as many starts, defeating Eastern High, 38-20, in the Eastern gym yesterday afternoon.

The victory over the powerful scholastic five stamps the yearling quint as one of the best in recent years. Eastern, last year's Inter-High champions, and a heavy favorite to repeat this year, fought desperately to stave off the lightning thrusts of the Cubs, but were unable to cope with the sharp-shooting of Bob Faris and Sid Silkowitz.

Trailing 11-13 at half time, the Frosh came back with a vengeance in the second half to score 19 points. Faris, forward, led the Frosh attack, whipping the cords for 18 points, followed by Silkowitz who chalked up 12 markers.

In each game the Frosh have produced a new scoring threat, no one man having been high scorer in two games.

Eastern's scorers were led by "Reds" Scheible, guard, who hit the hoop for 8 points. "Buddy" Shaner was second with five tallies.

With victories over Western, Tech, Friends, and Eastern, the Frosh are well on their way to a successful season, though return matches are scheduled for the scholastic quint.

Rifle Squad Cut
A squad cut of two men was in effect at last Friday's meeting of the varsity rifle squad. A further cut will be in force after the Christmas holidays, at which time a first Freshman team will also be selected by Coach Frank T. Parson, Jr. This Frosh team will be composed of ten men, and will be given instructions in the other two shooting positions, kneeling and prone.

Hal Kiesel, stellar center, is setting the scoring pace for the Colonial courtmen with a total of 25 points. Goldfaden is second with 18 points.

Five Plays Four Tilts in Tech Gym

The Colonial basketball team has sixteen more meets scheduled before the end of the season. Five of these games will be played away, seven at the G. W. "tin tabernacle," and four at Tech High.

The four games scheduled at Tech are: Jan. 13, Richmond; Jan. 14, Villanova; Jan. 27, Ohio State; and Feb. 17, Westminster.

Villanova is the only team of the four that was met last year; they were defeated 33-23.

The Freshmen basketball team will stage a preliminary with the Villanova frosh to the G. W.-Villanova game.

Things and Stuff
Southern Methodist is only 11 points better than G.W.'s football team... you don't believe it? ... well look at S.M.U.'s 14-0 defeat of Tulsa... and then look at G.W.'s 3-0 defeat of Tulsa... 11 points, if our subtraction is right... Now, if S.M.U. beats Stanford by more than 11 points, G.W. is better than Stanford... simple, eh what? ...
